

Supervision Agreement

Preamble

In accordance with §4, sec.1, clauses 4 and 5 of the current doctoral regulations of the TU Berlin, "...the candidate and her or his supervisor or supervisors shall conclude a supervision agreement according to the relevant provisions of Technische Universität Berlin. The aforementioned provisions will be passed by the committee which oversees the doctoral regulations of Technische University Berlin."

On 15.1.2014 the Academic Senate assigned the Joint Commission on Doctoral Regulations (Gemeinsame Kommission mit Entscheidungsbefugnis, GKmE) with the task to "set rules for the supervision agreement."

Rules for Supervision Agreements at TU Berlin.

Supervision agreements at TU Berlin are concluded voluntarily on the basis of the attached documents.

By concluding this supervision agreement both supervisor and doctoral candidate document their respective expectations and obligations. This specifically includes adherence to the Guidelines for the Safeguarding of Good Scientific Practice at TU Berlin, which are based on the recommendations of the German Research Foundation (Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft, DFG). Furthermore, they acknowledge the following aspects which are regarded as fundamental for an adequate supervision and working relationship during doctoral research at TU Berlin:

1. Regular meetings to discuss progress of the dissertation and frequent proactive reports by the doctoral candidate
2. Creating adequate conditions for independent research work during the dissertation (e.g. publications)
3. Participation of the candidate in (international) workshops and conferences
4. Access to technical or artistic infrastructure
5. Further issues, e.g. regular colloquia for doctoral candidates, possibility to participate in further education courses (SupA p. 2)

The parties may agree on further issues covering additional aspects of the supervision and working relationship which are set out in a separate document (see appendix).

The Faculties may recognize supervision agreements of structured programs (such as graduate schools or research training groups) as equivalent to the standards set out in this agreement.

The doctoral degree documents the ability to pursue independent academic work, thus contributing to research and development. The TU Berlin enables and supports the doctoral candidates in the acquisition of skills and competences. The supervision agreement between the supervisor and the doctoral candidate documents general outlines of the supervision arrangement. Both sides can agree to amend and adapt the provisions set out above during the dissertation process.

Both sides agree to pursue these tasks meticulously and consistently. In particular, they know and follow the rules of good scientific practice set out by the German Research Foundation (Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft, DFG) and related guidelines of TU Berlin (Web ID 4511). Both sides explicitly respect intellectual property rights relating to text and results and name the sources of material used (see recommendation 12 of the DFG). This supervision agreement applies regardless of the financial support of the doctoral candidate. If doctoral candidates are employed and paid out of the budget of TU Berlin adequate time for their own (doctoral) research has to be ensured according to §110, Section 4 of the Berlin State Law for Higher Education (Berliner Hochschulgesetz, BerlHG). If employees are paid through third-party funding “adequate time for the own research according to the conditions of the contract” shall be provided.

Supervisors can delegate the day-to-day supervision to an adequately qualified member of staff (holding a doctoral degree). This explicitly does not release them from the overall responsibility as a supervisor. If the doctoral research is mainly or completely conducted outside TU Berlin the supervisor is obliged to ascertain that the conditions for the doctoral candidate are adequate.

In case of conflicts both sides can appeal to the ombudsperson for doctoral candidates at the respective faculty.

Elements of a thorough and active supervision arrangement are:

1. Regular meetings to discuss progress of the dissertation and frequent proactive reports by the doctoral candidate
2. Creating adequate conditions for independent research work during the dissertation (e.g. publications)
3. Participation of the candidate in (international) workshops and conferences
4. Access to technical or artistic infrastructure
